ProposalBuilder™

Join the nearly 300 ProposalBuilder users in the Linc Service and TEGG networks who are already taking advantage of the revolutionary customer engagement tool.

ProposalBuilder is redefining how Linc Service and TEGG contractors create and deliver proposals, and how they interact with clients by allowing sales and operations teams to create online proposals and quotes.

ProposalBuilder allows sales teams to create online sales materials using existing information to create, send, track and execute customized proposals and sales agreements from their office or mobile device.

ProposalBuilder is mobile friendly and allows on-the-go updates to existing agreements, and lets clients review, interact with and approve sales materials from any device. It also instantly delivers text messages or email alerts to the sales team when clients open proposals, which pages they examine and how much time is spent on each page to give the team insight into the clients' specific interest. The program's design also allows for it to be customized to meet each franchise's individual needs.
