CURRENT MECHANICAL EARNS MSCA ELITE “STAR” DESIGNATION

Ft. Wayne, Ind.-Based Linc Service® Contractor Qualifies On Overall Operational Excellence

PITTSBURGH, March 13, 2006 – Current Mechanical, a Ft. Wayne, Ind.-based mechanical contractor and member of the Linc Service® Network, has been named an MSCA STAR Contractor by the Mechanical Service Contractors of America (MSCA).

Contractors that achieve MSCA STAR Qualified status belong to an elite group of contractors within the heating and air conditioning industry. These companies have verified that they uphold a strict code of business ethics, employ the best-trained and most qualified workforce, maintain a safety record above the industry average, offer outstanding customer service and focus on continuing education and training for all employees.

“Current Mechanical pursued this designation as a means of providing our existing and future customers with industry validation that we are providing the highest level of skill, quality, and value in our market,” noted Current General Manager Pete Smith. “Our mission statement, ‘Delivering value through quality and performance,’ has been this company’s guiding tenet since our inception in 1978. Achieving this designation is an honor and a credit to the professionalism and dedication of every member of the Current Mechanical team,” he finished.

By earning the STAR designation, Current Mechanical joins a select group of other mechanical service contractors – several of them Linc Service Contractors – who have earned this designation. According to Linc Network, LLC President and CEO Scott Giacobbe, “We’re proud to see members of our Network achieve this success, as it reinforces our standards of excellence and raises the bar for the more than 130 franchise locations that comprise our organization,” he said. “I commend the staff at Current Mechanical for their commitment to excellence.”

Established in 1978, Current Mechanical is helmed by CEO and Founder Robert Current. The company, which joined the Linc Service Network in 2004, offers commercial and industrial HVAC, fabrication, industrial piping, service and maintenance, and temperature controls to customers in Fort Wayne and surrounding communities in Ohio and Michigan.
