Q: What made you interested in becoming a technician?

A: "I started exploring the electrical industry after working a summer job when I was 16-years-old doing residential wiring. I knew it was for me because I was interested in learning more about it."

Q: What do you credit for your success as a team with your partner?

A: "I credit (Principal) Al Crosby and the entire team at Crosby Electric Company, Inc., for the positive reinforcement and constant training, which creates an opportunity to excel in the electrical preventive maintenance field."

"Colby (Carlock) has also been a large part of my training. He has an extensive knowledge of electrical preventive maintenance programs."

Q: What's the most rewarding part of your job?

A: "The most rewarding part of my job is the clients' satisfaction and being able to take a minute, step back, and say, 'I did that.'"

"Making clients happy creates domino effect. They are the most important people at that time, so if they are happy, you are, too, and so is your supervisor and team."

Q: What steps do you think technicians could take to better themselves as part of a Delta Team for a TEGG franchise?

A: "The steps one could take to improve or become a Delta Team member are all included in the TEGG training. Utilizing what TEGG offers in training and advice is a huge part of that. The other part would be to have the drive to complete any job with a positive attitude and in a timely fashion."

Q: What advice would you offer other technicians to also be successful in their companies?

A: "Always pay attention, study, and be aware of and follow all safety practices TEGG and your employer has provided. Crosby Electric takes safety and continuing education very seriously and without either of those, we wouldn't have had the knowledge and means to be chosen as Delta Team of the Year."
